MEDICINAL.

CURES OTHERS.

ELLY'S CREAM BALM
Cures Cough, Spits up Blood, Consumption, K. C. McLean, Esq., of Memphis, Tenn., writes: "When I commenced taking your 'Discovery' I was very low with a cough, and at times spit up much blood. I was not able to do the least work, but most of the time was in bed. I was all run-down, very weak, my head was dizzy, and I was extremely despondent. The first bottle I took did me much good, but I had faith in it and continued using it until I had taken fifteen bottles, and now I feel like the same man I was one year ago. People are astonished, and say, 'Well, last year this time I would not have thought that you would be living now.' I can truly say, I am entirely cured of a disease which, but for your wonderful 'Discovery,' would have resulted in my death."

WHY NOT YOU?

CATARRH ELLY'S CREAM BALM

CONFESSED TO MANY MURDERS.—E. E. Garcia, the Mexican who, with Azoff and Collins, was hanged at San Quentin, Cal., Friday, left a letter with a fellow-prisoner, to be opened and read after his death, the superscription of which was as follows:

"I will die very contented; see what is the reason, and then you know."
The letter was given to Captain Edgar. Garcia's reason for dying contented was explained in the letter. He confessed to having committed ten and one-half murders, and rejoiced that he could be punished only for one. He always maintained that the killing of the old Frenchman, for which he was hanged, was only half a murder, for he only completed the work his accomplice had begun. There was nothing to indicate who his other victims were, and his only regret was that he was captured before he had made the list of his victims. He admitted that it was his intention to murder the two men who were implicated in the murder of the Frenchman. Standing as he was in the shadow of death, the writer of such a letter, teeming with blasphemous tirades against his victims, proves himself to have been one of the worst criminals ever brought to justice.

A BOGUS HAITIAN ADMIRAL.—On Saturday morning Murray Watkins, a young negro arrayed in a uniform of blue and gold, was tried in the Mayor's court on the charge of having stolen a suit of clothes from an old colored woman named Mary Craig, with whom he had secured a night's lodging. On account of the prisoner's brilliant uniform it had been reported among the negroes that the blue and gold negro was an admiral in the Haitian navy, and a large crowd assembled to catch a glimpse of the young officer. Watkins engaged a night's lodging from the old woman, and gave her a check on the First National Bank of Alexandria for $1,000, requesting her to take care of it for him. He left early in the morning and carried away a suit of white clothes which the old woman had laundered for a customer. Watkins denied being an admiral in the navy of Haiti, but said he was an officer of the cadet corps of the Pennsylvania State Normal School, which mixes white and negro pupils. Watkins's pockets were filled with various official papers bearing big seals; also a memorandum book showing deposits of thousands of dollars in various northern banks. The Mayor gave the admiral six days in jail.—Norfolk Landmark.

BEES SWARM ON A COFFIN.—A strange incident happened at a funeral near Parson, Kan., the other day. A little son of Samuel Carson, residing southwest of the city, died and was buried in the neighborhood cemetery. There being no hearse, the remains were placed in a spring wagon and conveyed to the cemetery. On the way to the grave a swarm of bees gathered on the lid of the coffin and there remained. When the cemetery was reached all efforts to drive the bees from the coffin were without avail, and the pall bearers were forced to take charge of the coffin with the bees swarming about them, and before the remains were deposited in the grave every pall bearer suffered, being stung in more than one place on the face and hands. The bees clung so tenaciously to the coffin that many of them were buried with the body of the dead boy.

Sometime ago I was troubled with an attack of rheumatism. I used Chamberlain's Pain Balm and was completely cured. I have since advised many of my friends and customers to try the remedy and all speak highly of it.—Simon Goldbaum, San Luis Rey, Cal. For sale by L. Stabler & Co.

The Doctor Saved His Life.

Mr. G. Calouette, Druggist, Beaverville, Ill., says: "To Dr. King's New Discovery I owe my life. Was taken with La Grippe and tried all the physicians for miles about, but of no avail and was given up and told I could not live. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in my store I sent for a bottle and began its use and from the first dose began to get better, and after using three bottles was up and about again. It is worth its weight in gold. We won't keep store or house without it." Get a free trial at E. S. Leadbeater & Sons' Wholesale and Retail Drug Store.
